Dandelion Ink

The sap of a Dandelion is white but when you write with it, it is invisible, then watch the magic as it dries. Can you write a message? Try it on different coloured paper and see if there is a difference?

TIP...

*if the sap starts to dry whilst writing, simply snip a little further up the stem*

There are lots of Spring activities on Alistair Bryce-Clegg's website

Natural Art

Collect lots of natural objects. Use them to create some art anywhere and everywhere!

CUTTING THE GRASS!

'SO simple yet so entertaining and effective'

What you need:

- A pair of scissors and some grass!
- Let your children loose with a pair of scissors - endless fun, great cutting skills practise and practical too!
- You could talk about the length of the grass, order it by length, make grass soup, count the grass strands, make a grass collage or whatever other wonderful ideas you can think of!

ALWAYS supervise when children are using sharp objects!

Gemma Ison

Make your own ink, help to cut the grass, make pictures out of leaves and petals and if you've got paint you could try printing with flowers and leaves too.

1. Cut the heads off the flowers, leaving a short amount of stem.
2. Attach a peg to each flower head by the stem to make it easier to pick up.
3. Pour some paint into the trays or containers.
4. Dip the flower heads into the trays.
5. Carefully print with the flower heads onto paper.

Flower Printing

What you need:

- Various spring flowers
- Trays or containers
- Paint
- Paper
- Pegs

Mud café

Lots of children enjoy playing in the sand at nursery or playing in the mud kitchen outside.

This week see if you can set up your own mud café in the garden!

This one from

<https://thecraftingchicks.com/>

uses a paddling pool, but you could use an old washing up bowl, toy box or baby bath. Anything that you can put the soil in.

Or these ideas are from

<https://cdn.mumsgrapevine.com>

You can use old pots and pans – anything that you can find. Children can make cakes, soup or magic potions.

Nature bracelets

As you go on your walk this week, you could collect things to add to a nature bracelet or a nature crown.

Can you plant a beanstalk like Jasper?

Watch this video for how to plant a bean in a jar or a cup. You can watch the roots and shoots grow before you transfer your plant to the ground or put it in a pot in your garden.
